

I'm not robot!

16. Tell me a suggestion you have made that was implemented in this field?

It's important here to focus on the word "implemented." There's nothing wrong with having a thousand great ideas, but if the only place they live is on your notepad what's the point? Better still, you need a good ending. If your previous company took your advice and ended up going bankrupt, that's not such a great example either. Be prepared with a story about an idea of yours that was taken from idea to implementation, and considered successful.

Do you love running? This is a useful running material for you: RunningSecrets365.blogspot.com

43. Do you have a geographic preference?

Sample excellent response:

Although I would prefer to stay in the Mid-Atlantic area, I would not rule out other possibilities.

44. Why do you think you might like to live in the community in which our company is located?

Sample excellent response:

Just a few weeks ago, I had the opportunity to spend several days in your community, and I fell in love with it. I love the fact that you have a thriving riverfront. I'm impressed with the many cultural opportunities here -- opera, theater, art, and independent films. I've also already become a fan of the Saints and the other sports teams based here. I have conducted significant Internet research on this city, so I am quite comfortable with your location.

45. Would it be a problem for you to relocate?

Sample excellent response:

I'm open to opportunities within the company; if those opportunities involve relocation, I would certainly consider it.

46. To what extent would you be willing to travel for the job?

Sample excellent response:

I am more than willing to travel. I understand the importance of going above and beyond the call of duty to satisfy customer requests is sometimes required and that Merrill Lynch's customer focus belief means that travel is expected in some circumstances. I am willing to make this commitment to do whatever it takes to develop that long-term relationship with a small business or client. It is only through this relationship that loyalty can be maintained and financial gains and growth can occur for both the client and Merrill Lynch. It is my understanding from other financial consultants that I have interviewed at Merrill Lynch that this occurs maybe one or two times a month.

47. Which is more important to you, the job itself or your salary?

Sample excellent response:

A salary commensurate with my experience and skills is important, but it's only one piece of the package. Many other elements go into making up a compensation package, but more importantly, it's critical to me to enjoy what I'm doing, fit into the corporate culture, and feel I'm making a genuine contribution.

See also this page of our Job Interviewing Tutorial.

48. What level of compensation would it take to make you happy?

Sample excellent response:

I am not depending on money to make me happy. What makes me happy is having a satisfying job that provides challenge and new situations daily.

49. Tell me about the salary range you're seeking.

In most of the MNC interview questions such as in ZOHO interview question, IVTL infoview interview questions, Amazon interview questions, GOOGLE interview questions, Infosys interview questions and even in Voornik interview questions, We come across several Tricky C Questions about which 2.5 of the questions are from if else in c. Solving that kind of tricky C questions is not an easy task for all C programmers. We need more practices to solve it with ease. So we provide 25+ interesting C questions in if else to make your MNC interview very easy. 21. What will be the output of the C program? #include int main() { int i = 5; if(i = i - 5 > 4) printf("inside if block"); else printf("inside else block"); return 0; } A. Compilation Error B. None C. inside if block D. inside else block Answer 22. What will be the output of the C program? #include int main() { char str1[] = "zoho"; char str2[] = "zoho"; if(strcmp(str1, str2)) printf("Strings are not same"); else printf("Strings are Same"); return 0; } A. Strings are Same B. Strings are not Same C. Compilation Error D. runtime Error Option: A Explanation The strcmp function always returns 0 if both strings are equal otherwise it returns a non-zero value. The above program has two strings, both are same. It executes else block. Answer 23. What will be the output of the C program? #include int main() { int i; if(scanf("%d",&i)) //if we give input as 0 printf("inside if block"); else printf("inside else block"); return 0; } A. Runtime Error B. Compilation Error C. inside if block D. inside if block Option: D Explanation The scanf("%d",&i) reads some input from user so condition is true and if block gets executed. Answer 24. What will be the output of the C program? #include int main() { if(sizeof(0)) printf("Hai"); else printf("Bye"); return 0; } A. Bye B. Hai C. Compilation Error D. None Option: B Explanation The sizeof(0) will returns size of integer. So the condition is true. Answer 25. What will be the output of the C program? #include int main() { if(sizeof(0)) printf("inside if block"); else printf("inside else block"); return 0; } A. inside if block B. inside else block C. None D. Compilation Error Option: A Explanation The sizeof(0) is 1 byte. So if block gets executed. Answer We may make mistakes(spelling, program bug, typing mistake and etc.). So we have this container to collect mistakes. We highly respect your findings. Report Something went wrong. Wait a moment and try again.
